LIQUOR BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE

Corruption Will Follow Is Opinion Of Makekau

SENATE

42d Day—Forenoon Session.

The passage of the liquor bill on third reading was the most important feature of the Senate session this morning. Several amendments were made, among them being one which makes the license $1000 for all saloons within a radius of a first, second or third class postoffice, so that all such places will be included under the high license provision, except those which are situated in very remote places.

Makekau fought strenuously but unsuccessfully to knock out the provision which limits the number of saloons to one for each 1500 inhabitants. His argument was that there would be such a demand for licenses that it would lead to the corruption of the board issuing the licenses, and further that it would tend to encourage illicit selling.

While the bill finally passed in a form which is fairly satisfactory to the Senators who are most interested in the measure, it is contended that some of the features have been made so strict that the bill will be killed in the House.

Smith reported for the Special County Committee on Senate Bill 50, creating the office of County Surveyor, recommending that it be tabled.

The Judiciary Committee reported on House Bill 11, providing for the support of the family of a deceased person pending the administration of his estate, recommending its passage with certain amendments. The same committee reported on Senate Bills 24 and 25, relating to the establishment of registration offices of each County, recommending that they be tabled.

Senate Bill 90, providing that citizens only must hold Government positions, passed third reading as amended on second reading by the addition of the proviso that aliens may be employed when it is not practicable to obtain citizens.

AMEND LIQUOR BILL

Senate Bill 91, the liquor bill introduced by the Special Liquor Committee, was taken up on third reading. McCarthy moved to strike out the provision that liquor sold in saloons must be consumed on the premises. Carried.

McCarthy also moved that where hotels and restaurants were given the right to sell liquor after closing or in election hours, and on Sunday, they must pay an additional license fee of $250. Adopted.

He also moved to amend that no minor or female shall be permitted to remain in any part of a hotel or restaurant where liquor is sold. Adopted.

Chillingworth called attention to the fact that there was no provision in the bill which allowed drug stores to sell drugs containing liquor.

Knausan said that the definitions contained in the act were explicit enough.

McCarthy explained that under the Federal law druggists who sold such drugs had to take out a Federal liquor license.

Chillingworth said druggists had called his attention to the matter. McCarthy moved to strike out the section providing that the payment of the Federal special tax shall be evidence of illicit sale. Carried.

WANTS RESTRICTION OUT.

Makekau moved to strike out the section which limited the number of licenses to one for every 1500 inhabitants. He contended that in case it were passed the license would be held by only a privileged few, who would probably be the friends of a member of the liquor board. Should there be an applicant on Oahu and only 40 licenses to distribute, he would distribute them to his friends and the friends of the members, and would encourage bribery. He did not think it was proper for the Legislature to take away the rights of the people and place them in the hands of a few. If the number of licenses were restricted illicit liquor selling would be encouraged. He was satisfied with the other features of the bill, but this one provision he was against.

The motion to strike out the section was lost.

VILLAGE LICENSES RAISED. Haystack moved to amend the section making the fee for licenses located within a five-mile radius of a first or second class postoffice $1000 by making it include those within such a distance of a third class postoffice. The liquor dealers in the outside districts were willing to pay the increased license. He claimed that as their privileges had been increased their license should be increased. This would take in all saloons except those in isolated country places. Carried.

LIQUOR BILL, PASSES.

Coolidge moved to pass the bill third reading. The bill passed by a vote of 9 to 6 as follows:

Ayes—Coolidge, Haystack, Knausan, Lane, McCarthy, Smith, Chillingworth, Lamana, Bishop—9.

Noes—Dowsett, Randall, Hewitt, Makekau, Woods, Brown—6.

Senate Bill 93, the general license law came up for third reading, but action was deferred until tomorrow.

House Bill 74, the current expense bill, was read on third reading, but a recess until 2 p. m. was taken before it was voted on.
